We'd suggest you use this particular one as it's the official one from Tutanota: But other than that if the email exists in the same database, but has the same name, you can also try this method: Step 1: Open a new email in your email client (Outlook, Thunderbird,..) Step 2: go to the junk email folder Step 3: Delete all entries in the junk folder (don't worry, they are only temporary and they won't take up your harddrive. Or make a new account with a new email address.) Step 4: Open your old email in your client and start copying it's old contents one by one (if they are not already there) and paste it in your new client. Step 5: Save the old client, close it and delete everything else except the old account and the new inbox (Empty it.) That's it. Your new (old) email will be in your new account. rt : Michael Schielhorn; rt2 : Charlie Pascoe. For all good works. 42. rt2 : Charlie Pascoe..
