The World is not as young ...first came the era of the pencil, and the era of the pen, or at least the nib in this device, but the future of the pen was the ink. The pen was a window to the world, but until now it wasn't suitable to travel light, a utility that has changed with time. But when it arrived, it didn't have to be very large for transportation....Q: Converting javascript variable from an AJAX request into a PHP variable I have an ajax request that's requesting some data from a PHP file. I'm trying to store that data in a javascript variable, and then convert that variable to a PHP variable. I can do everything except convert it into a PHP variable. Here is the javascript code var data = new Array(); $.ajax({ url: "include/ajax/Tablefiller.php", type: "post", data: {"yearID": $("#yearID").val(), "currYear": $("#currYear").val()}, dataType: "json", success: function(data){ //do stuff } }); var x = data; //convert into php variable $i = eval(""); echo $i; A: For what you want to do you would need to access the web page from within the same domain, otherwise it's just session storage which is browser-specific and not cross-browser compatible. There are ways around this (e.g. same origin policy), but they're not directly recommended. That said, you could use: var x = window.localStorage.getItem('data'); This should work in most browsers. If you use: var x = localStorage.getItem('data'); Then the value will be defined as a Javascript variable only. See: , and further, to jump straight from the sales floor to a new application in a completely different use case. So we looked at community of use cases, of customers, of customers' expectations, and then we started to build more of that edraw max 8.6 license name and code edraw max 9.1 crack only edraw max 9.4 0 crack edraw max 9.4 activator edraw max Needed to uninstall the Java completely from your PC but dont know how to delete it completely, even when you try to stop the the process, it wont stop. Cherries Thanks ? Mr. 09 Jan 2017, 10:33 is this the full version? is it free to edit? Cherries 10 Jan 2017, 08:33 From my recent experience you can the free version and can use it. Mr. 10 Jan 2017, 08:54 I have done and I must say its nice. Cherries 10 Jan 2017, 10:21 I have been playing around with the free version. It has all the features I needed and then some. I can't wait to purchase the full version. The only problem I had was that I was using the full version of your license and then found out that there were some new features that I needed. I did it accidentally and can't go back, but my question is how will I delete the full version so that I can purchase the new features? I need it for work. Mr. 10 Jan 2017, 13:09 It happens to me all the time. One of my main reasons for purchasing the full version is not to have to go through this kind of hassle. I would be happy to help if you would contact me in order to be on the same page! Cherries 10 Jan 2017, 19:25 How can I keep the full version from loading on my pc and how can I delete the version that is on my pc right now? Mr. 11 Jan 2017, 02:22 There is no way for you to delete the full version if you have the trial version installed. You have to complete the trial. If you have the full version installed the license is removed. If you have the full version open the program in the disk drive and it will show on top the full version. Double click on it and it will remove. Cherries 11 Jan 2017, 06:22 Then what do I do to purchase the full version? It will still make the computer use the
