Hinduism places greatest emphasis on ethics and morality. The Shastras, the scriptures of Hinduism, urge the need to live a good life and to refrain from immoral acts. The followers of Hinduism are called Hindus. in a telephone call with Mr. Valladares last summer, the agent told Mr. Valladares that he needed to have the gas bill taken care of. Mr. Valladares 6 1-15-0567 told the agent that he had already paid that bill in a prior telephone call. Mr. Valladares also told the agent that he would fix the problem in the future. Despite the fact that Mr. Valladares had paid a $20 fine and purchased a prepaid phone card, an unknown person was the cause of a six month delay between August and December 2011 in setting up the surveillance by the confidential informant. In addition, there was a five day delay in conducting the search and then another six months before Mr. Valladares was arrested. In considering all the circumstances in this case, including the information known by defendants in light of the factors set forth in Zehr, we conclude that the trial court did not err in ordering a $20,000 bond, as the trial court is in the best position to make the determination of whether Mr. Valladares should be released prior to trial. Accordingly, the trial court's decision is affirmed. Affirmed.
